United Church Notes

The Junior Choir is doing splendid work in the Church and Sunday School under the leadership of Mrs. Coleman. Much credit is due Mrs. Parnell and Mrs. Coleman in undertaking this work.

The scholars in the Sunday School that won the prizes for regular attendance the latter part of 1934 were Marvin Bishop, Ronnie Bishop and Annette Parnell each receiving a testament.

Miss Spencer's class, the (Primary scholars) holds the banner. Will it continue to do so? Now classes, do your best.

During the very severe weather the attendance has dropped off somewhat, but no doubt it will improve with the warm weather.

A cruise that leaves the beaten track of world tour ships to explore the changing world of Africa and South America has been planned by the Canadian Pacific for the 1935-36 season.

In three months, 35 days to be exact, this great white liner will circle the dark continent of Africa via the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean, cross the South Atlantic, calling at lonely Tristan da Cunha, to visit the South American continent and the West Indies. There are altogether 26 ports in 22 different countries on the schedule for this new Mediterranean-Africa-South America tour. Departure will be from New York on January 15 and return there on April 24.

Madras, Calcutta, Barcelona, Monte Carlo, Nice, Naples, and Athens will be visited during the European part of the cruise, then Palestine and Egypt. In East Africa the Empress of Australia's cruise party will spend three days, visiting Mombasa in Kenya Colony, the island of Zanzibar and Dar-es-Salaam, the capital of Tanganyika. The route to Lorenzo Marques, Portuguese East Africa, a call will be made at Malindi Bay, on the French island of Madagascar.

Two whole weeks are spent in South Africa, forming part of the experience of the cruise party, which will reach Durban on March 5. Calls at Durban and Capetown are on the liner's schedule, but five optional excursions by special trains will be made through the interior.

The Western Hemisphere will be reached again on March 28, when the Empress docks at Buenos Aires. Two days will be spent in this gay capital of the Argentine as a day at Montevideo, capital of Uruguay. The coffee port of Santos, Sao Paulo, and beautiful Rio de Janeiro will be the Brazilian plans of interest visited, then the final ten days of the cruise will be spent in the Caribbean waters, calling at La Brea and Trinidad, Port of Spain, Kingston, Jamaica, and Havana, Cuba.

New Body Lines and More Room in 1935 Ford V-8

THE latest and roomiest car Ford has ever built, with new body lines of advanced streamline design, is illustrated above in this Ford V-8 de luxe Tudor sedan for 1935. Sedan seat six passengers in comfort. Luxurious appointments are new. The eleven body types are all finished in new baked enamel which is said to need only washing to restore its high luster. Cars are approximately eight inches longer from bumper to bumper and seats are wider. Chassis improvements, including moving the engine forward more than eight inches and new spring suspension, add to rider comfort, especially of rear seat passengers. Directed-down crankcase ventilation is an improvement of the 90 horsepower V-8 engine.

Canadian Tires Winter in Florida

Kitchener, Ont., Jan. 17—For the tenth consecutive year, the famous Silver Fleet has arrived in Florida, where it will have headquarters during the next several months. Tires manufactured by Canadian Goodrich Company Ltd., Kitchener, Ont. will undergo tests under the supervision of experts of the B. F. Goodrich Company.

Goodrich engineers chose Florida because of the excellent conditions for tire testing prevailing there during the winter. Tires of all types and sizes will be used in the tests, just as they are when the Silver Fleet operates from Akron, Ohio, its home city.

Orlando has been chosen as a base for the Silver Fleet this year. Its operation will radiate over a wide range of territory. H. B. Viers, Fleet supervisor, is in charge and has 26 drivers and others in the Silver Fleet with him.

The Milo Hornets defeated the Red Cross club 3-1 in a league fixture Wednesday night. The remaining games of the League schedule should be interesting ones. Arrowwood Cardinals are the only undefeated team in the League.

The radio broadcast of the Social Credit League's reception for the U.F.W.A. and U. F. A. delegates was enjoyed by many local listeners.

The Lethbridge paper reports that Miss Jean Yuill has returned to her home from the Hospital.

Mr. R. Allen has been marketing steers in Calgary this week.

The cold weather and heavy snowdrifts have caused more idle to remain idle of late. Even the bus is not running on schedule.

The Shouldice school has been closed lately due to the extreme cold weather.

We are pleased to report that Miss Helen Leadbeater is making rapid progress after a serious illness.

Were the U.F.A. delegates wise in disapproving the Social Credit plan?

Buy the Best Tea

Canada in 1935

Now that the world is well launched into the new year, and we are becoming accustomed to writing 1935 instead of 1934, the question should become more and more insistent, rather than less so, as to which we propose as individuals and as citizens of Canada to make of this new year. A new hopefulness seems to prevail and a greater degree of confidence is in evidence that this year is to provide opportunities which were lacking in 1934. It remains for the individual to grasp those opportunities and bend them to his will.

The depression has been teaching many important lessons. It has been a hard taskmaster, and the lessons taught through bitter experiences have not been pleasant ones, nevertheless they have of utmost value if they are heeded. Through force of circumstances, tens of thousands of people have been compelled to turn to their local community for assistance; with resources thus taxed to the limit, local communities have had to turn to their Provincial Governments for aid; Provinces, in turn, have had to rely upon the Federal authority with its greater resources.

School districts and rural municipalities have found they could solve their problems and do what they felt ought to be done without Provincial assistance; Provinces now realize that Federal policies have a more direct bearing on Provincial policies, Provincial assistance, and Provincial ability to function and carry on than was appreciated in the past; the Dominion Government has learned, as all national governments have learned, that with all its powers it, too, is handicapped, and its ability to act as it truly believes to be in the national interests, nullified by the policies and acts of other nations.

The depression has enforced the lesson that, while the world of nations may not be a political unit, they are an economic unit and that not one of them can fully prosper isolated from others; rather, statesmen, financiers and business men realize that complete isolation is not only impossible, but trade, and many economic policies must be submerged in a larger acceptance of the interdependence of all.

Internationalism in its true and proper conception must replace the all too long accepted idea of nationalism, and the old conception of "my country first, last and all the time" regardless of all other countries must be abandoned. As one writer recently put it: "Nationalism is of yesterday, super-nationalism is of tomorrow," and he pertinently says and asks: "Canada stands at the intersection of the two ways—which will she take?" It is for the individual Canadian citizen to decide.

Unlike Great Britain, Canada has not possessed a large and broad viewpoint of world affairs, nor has it been able to see the world as a whole, for our remoteness in decades now past from the centre of world affairs, by our close proximity to the United States where extreme nationalism and isolationist policies have always prevailed. But Canada's vision and responsibilities were broadened by the war. Becoming a large world power, Canadians have learned and learned rapidly. This Dominion has been one of the staunchest supporters of the League of Nations, and all that the League stands for in international co-operation and the promotion of peace and international goodwill.

There can be no turning back for Canada—we must play our part in the world arena. Only so can this Dominion further develop and prosper. Narrow nationalism, no matter how it may be expressed, means a reversion to a colonial status and a turning of our backs on the new world of the twentieth century. Even in the United States there is a tremendously stronger sentiment in favor of acceptance of the larger international viewpoint and in support of U.S. co-operation with other nations. And other nations than Canada can do more to advance and strengthen that sentiment. It is in our own interests that this should be done, and it is one of the great services Canada can render the world.

And in the sphere of our domestic Canadian affairs, it should be the aim of our people to bring about a closer union, a better understanding, and greater co-operation among the Provinces. There is need for amendment and change in the constitutions of the Dominion and the Provinces which will remove existing causes of friction, eliminate overlapping in jurisdiction, and provide ways and means of mutually advantageous co-operation. The foundations of our Canadian confederation are good and sound, but the framework erected thereon can and ought to be improved and made more adaptable to present day needs and requirements.

It is submitted that it should be the patriotic task of the Canadian people to achieve marked progress in these directions before "Bibi" is written to the year 1935.

Increase in Industry

Germany Makes Most Progress And

Canada Well Up

Steady increase in industrial activity in a number of countries during 1934 was reported by the economic section of the League of Nations.

Countries in which particular progress was recorded were Canada,

Germany, Italy, Norway, Sweden and Poland.

Decreases were recorded in the United States, France and the Netherlands.

In several other countries the important increase reported at the beginning of 1934 was interrupted after

June and July when definite drops were recorded.

Compared to October, 1933, industrial activity in October, 1934, markedly increased 20 per cent in Germany, 10 per cent in Sweden, 10 per cent in Italy, 9 per cent in Canada, 8 per cent in Norway. Against this the United States showed a 4 per cent, in the Netherlands 5 per

Canada's Oldest Doll

Given As Birthday Present Ninety-

Three Years Ago

Ninety-three years old, a doll belonging to Mrs. Marjorie Hilliard, herself 103, of Oakville, Ontario, was presented to her at a doll festival held in Bramford United Church.

Pink-inked and as smooth as skin as the day she was in her prime, the doll swept all opposition before her, including entrance from all over

Canada, and France. She won her honors on four main points.

Beauty of face, design and workmanship of the pretty white dress and the work, her age and the fact that her owner is still alive, a centenarian.

Given to Mrs. Hilliard on her 10th birthday, it is still as perfect as the day she unwrapped it on that eventful morning, 83 long years ago. It is believed the doll is the oldest in Canada.

Ancestor Of Piano

The earliest known ancestor of the piano was the "ke" invented in China about 3600 B.C. That instrument was 40 strings, each consisting of 81 silk threads, stretched over a five-inch wooden box. It was played by tapping the strings with a hammer.

Ryman production in Italy is 22 per cent, above that of a year ago.

YOUR HANDWRITING REVEALS

YOUR CHARACTER!

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT

(Grapho-Analyst)

(All Rights Reserved)

Editor's Note: This writer deals with another very interesting problem, but a similar case, the very probable would be some person in this well-known Grapho-analyst.

I would like to welcome. See his interview to you following this week's article.

"Miss 'Anxious' writes as follows:

"I work in an office and am very dissatisfied with my work, although

I can put up with it for the sake of having something to do and the salary goes with it. I would much prefer to have studied medicine, and prevent me from following it. Or should I marry the old fellow who is 35 years of age, I am but 17. This man is wealthy and can give me luxury to him, and has traveled all over the world. Because of this I feel inferior to him, and I shall continue unassuming and a wonderful pal.

Mr. Hibbert, I shall continue your opinion almost final regarding this matter, as I simply cannot decide for myself."

In considering this problem, resulting of handwriting is not enough. As far as character is concerned, there is little to choose between the two. They are both straightforward and reliable. One is a little more inclined to worry than the other, but in his way of barring unforeseen accidents, he will make a choice fairly well in his chosen profession.

So it is necessary to use psychology. Here we have a girl who is longer in the flapper stage, and who is a good specimen of the type of girl who is capable of being able to make a choice between the two for her life partner.

The girl who is rather partial to the young doctor, has a more symmetrical and sympathetic chord in her nature, because girls are usually more sympathetic inclined toward men than boys. But it is not only this. She herself wrote that she is very fond of them both, but she is really more fond of the young doctor, and "Miss Anxious" is undoubtedly one of the possibilities of comfort and financial safety of the money represented by the young doctor.

This latter angle is, I believe, clouded by the fact that she is more in love with the young doctor.

Now for a word or two about the girl herself. She is really well temperamentally, is capable and independent. She is really well equipped to take the struggling doctor in his efforts towards success, and she has the sympathy and understanding of the young doctor.

I advise you, "Miss Anxious," to decide in favour of the young doctor.

It is my own personal opinion that you are really more in love with him, and I think you will feel satisfied making this decision, and glad that you did so.

I wish you all happiness and hope that your young doctor will not have to reach comparative success.

The writer of these fascinating articles can help you, too. Do you wish to know the story behind your own handwriting? Would you like to know the truth about your friends—whether they are sincere or deceitful; reliable or dishonest? Send specimens of the writing you want analyzed, stating birthdate in each case. Enclose 10c coin for each specimen, and send with 3c stamped addressed envelope, to: Lawrence

Hibbert, 107 Ottawa, Ontario.

The letter will be mailed as quickly as possible, but please allow at least two weeks for your reply.
